the presidential party would go to the road. It was arranged that the road, the run, one an hour

ahead of the other, and between them pilot engines and trac'i-walkers, so that at ne moment for ar hour prior to the coming of the presidential special would there be any cessation in the personal inspection of the track.

The first train was to have two or three extra cars, closed up, so as to create the impression that the presidential party was aboard, this being done to avoid the crowds which might otherwise gather at the depôts and stations on route. The second special, which was to leave Washington from a point known only to those in the confidence was to leave Washington from a point known only to those in the confidence of the President, was to run one hour behind the first special and to be composed of five private cars—namely, Mr. Garrett's car. for the use of the President, and the cars of Vice-Presidents Spencer and Smith and General-Manager Dunham and General - Superintendent Lee, for the Cabinet. Two engines were ordered to be ready at each division adquarters and in every instance to most earefully inspected and thoroughly gone over. Prior to the arrival of the presi-ential party watchmen were to be laced at every station and crossing broughout the entire system. All trains of whatsoever character, limited express, passenger, or otherwise, were instructed not to move on the westinstructed not to move on the west-bound track upon any consideration from the time of the arrival of the first special until the time of passage of the second, so that any mishap was almost impossible. None of the changes of engines on the presidential special were to be made in the cities, but in each instance at points beyond.

It was not until late on Sunday evening that Major Pangborn was notified that the President would not go, being informed at the same time that several Cabinet officers would; whereupon it was decided that the entire arrangement should stand and the trains be run exactly as they would have been had the President been of the party.

Wiscensin's Dying Congressman on the Way to Washington.

A Milwaukee (Wis.) special says: Congressman Joseph Rankin, of Mani-towee, arrived in Milwaukee at 10:50 o'clock this morning en route to Washington. He is accompanied by his wife, son, and daughter. On Wednesday the party will continue its journey to the capital. Congressman Rankin is in a daing condition and his offerts to take dying condition, and his efforts to take his seat in Congress present a pitiful He has for some time anconstituents, and the warning of his physician. Until within the past week or ten days it was believed by those best acquainted with the condition of his health that he would abandon the plan before the date fixed for the plan before the date fixed for his start. During the past two or three days, however, arrangements have been per-fected for the journey.

When it became known that Mr.

Rankin was in the city many friends called to pay their respects, but by the advice of those with him they were not admitted to his room. Congressman Rankin is said by his physician to be a very sick man. He looks it, but his face has not the haggard appearance that is to be expected after such a sickness as he has gone through. Con-gressman Van Schaick said to-day that Ir. Rankin would die in the harness. "He is going to Washington," continued Mr. Van Schaick, "and he will be sworn in, but he will never occupy strength is not sufficient to sustain him ough the fatigues that are sufficient to wear out even the strongest. Mr. and al sons. it is not great enough to carry him through. He shows indomitable pluck and energy in making the effort, but it will be wasted."

Mr. Rankin is slowly dying from a implication of diseases. He was ricken while in Washington last inter with Bright's disease, and has been ill ever since. Lately he has ahown symptoms of heart-disease, and is liable to die at any moment. He is fifty-three years old and one of the most prominent Democrats in the State.

GRABBING A SPIRIT.

A Years Stapsic's Experience with a Medium at a senuce in lows.

A Desamoines (Iowa) special says: At Strawberry Point, this State, C. E. Wymm, the Spiritualistic medium, has been holding senuces at the residence of W. B. Field for a couple of weeks past, the attendance being large each evening, the medium not forgetting to collect $1 from each person in attendance. Quite a number of citizens were worked up to a high pitch, several being on the verge of insanity over the adroit manner in which he brought up the so-called spirits of their departed friends. Several skeptical young men attended the scance last Saturday evening with the determination of expesing what they considered a palpable hand. Accordingly, one of them managed to accure a seat near the cabinet from which the spirits materialized. The clothing of the medium was sewed securely to a chair in the cabinet, the circle formed, and the lights turned down. Soon the spirit of the father of one of the company was materialized, and reached out to shake hands with his son, when the young man near the cabinet grappled with the measenger from the other world and threw him to the floor. The believers immediately hurled themselves upon the daring young man, upon which the other skepties took a hand in the affair, and for a while pandemonium reigned, with the opirit believers and unbolievers rolling on the floor of the dimly-lighted room. The lights were at length turned up, when, to the amannument of the believing circle, the materialized spirit proved to be the medium, in an exceedingly and, in default of this, was remainded to the county jail, to await the action of the grand jury. Wyman is one of the most noted mediums in the West, being the chief medium at the recent Iowa State Spiritualist camp-meeting.

PRETTY MISS MEFFERT.

A St. Louis (Mo.) special says: At the close of the performance of the Thalia Opera Company at the Grand Opera-House Friday night there was a regular fist-fight in the theatre between Manager J. L. Steinhardt, of the Thalia regular fist-fight in the theatre between Manager J. L. Steinhardt, of the Thalia company, and Mr. Beauthner, a friend and admirer of Miss Meffert, the prima donna. The latter was the unwitting cause of the excitement. She had sung her best in "Gasparone," and had added all of her male hearers to her list of admirers be-fore the curtain went down. This was the signal for the outside excitement to begin. Mr. Steinhardt is a devoted ad-mirer of the pretty vocalist, and con-stituted himself her champion. Among her other admirers is Mr. Beauthner. a young man recently arrived from Ber-lin. He knew and admired Miss Mef-fert in Berlin, came over in the same steamer with her, and has followed her with admiration ever since. He was in the audience with two ladies. Mr. Steinhardt was standing in the rear of the parquet when Mr. Beauthner came out with the ladies on his arm. Steinhardt made some remark to Beauthner, and, catching him by the lappel of his coat, struck him, telling him to let Miss Meffert alone. Beauthhim to let Miss Meffert alone. Beauthner is an active, plucky young fellow, and, resenting the blow, the two men were soon engaged in a rough-and-tumble "scrap" right in the midst of an immense crowd of people. Accounts of the fight given by eye-witnesses differ. Some say that Beauthner, when he got warmed up to the work, was giving Steinhardt more than he could attend to, and others say that the manager was getting the best of his opponent when the two men were separated. It is asserted that this meeting is not the result of anything in particular of recent date, but of an unpleasantness that has existed for some time. Mr. Steinhardt says that Beauthner has been annoying Miss Meffert with notes and attentions which are unpleasant to her, and has been making insulting remarks, and he protected her as he would any lady in his protected her as he would any lady in his company, whether she was a prima donna or a chorus girl. It is claimed by friends of the other party that Mr. Steinhardt is championing hiss Meffert unnecessarily and is acting from motives of jealousy. Mr. Steinhardt is not Miss Meffert's husband as has been erroneously stated. She has been married for some time and has several children. Her husband is a member of the

with Wheat at Dulutfi. A Duluth (Minn.) special of the 1st says: Last night a car loaded with wheat was received from Lisbon, Dak., and when the inspector opened the car he discovered the body of a man, with face and hands besmeared with clotted blood. An investigation showed that the man had been hit with a coupling-pin, which was found spectacle. He has for some time announced his intention of taking his seat in the House at the reconvening of Congress despite the earnest protestations of his friends, the remoustrances of his of his friends, the remoustrances of his car, indicating that the man was standin the car covered with blood. The blow car, indicating that the man was standing up. The man was apparently thirty-five years old. In one of his pockets was found a leather roll enclosing $475 in bills. The car left Lisbon November 26th, and was four days on the road. The coroner thinks the man has been dead about that time.

At Fargo the seal of the car was all right, but at Brainerd the seal on one door was broken and was replaced with a new one. It is thought the seal was broken at some point between these two places. From a note found in the car it was at first thought the man was a telegraph-operator, but subsequent investigation proved this to be erroneous, and absolutely no clue to his identity has been obtained.

Dr. Milton N. Taylor, one of the best known physicians in Baltimore, writes: This is to certify that this is the first time during my practice of thirty-six years that I ever recommended any article for medicinal purposes, but with some experience I am constrained to say that "Dr. Petzoid's German Bitters" is an excellent preparation as an Appetizer, and will relieve in our cure almost any form of Dyspepsia, and is one of the best Tonics I have ever used. By virtue of a decree of the Chancery Court of the city of Richmond. entered on the 27th day of February, 1885. In the suit of Williams's Executors es. Grubbs, Surviving Partner, &c., we will sell by public auction, at the time and place stated above, and in the order named below, the following VALUABLE REAL ESTATE—to wit.

1. A LOT on south side of Lester street (Rocketts), east of Gillie's Creek, and upon which Cunningham's Hotel was located, 30285 feet.

30x85 feet.

2. A LOT on the north side of Lester street, beginning 50 feet west of Louisiana street, 25x100 feet. This is a pretty building jot.

3. A LOT on the southwest corner of Louisiana and Second streets (Bocketts), 29x75 feet. Valuable for business purposes.

4. A LOT on the south side of Second street, beginning 85 feet west of Louisiana street, 115x87 feet; and just the place for a row of small tenements that will pay a handsome return.

5. A LARGE LOT near the city jail, fronting on an alley 16 feet wide, between Broad and Marshall streets, with access by a good-sized alley from Broad street, just below Jail alley, with a front on the first-mentioned alley of 313 7-12 feet, by a depth varying from 49 to 96 feet.

6. FOUR BEAUTIFUL BUILDING LOTS on the south side of Clay between Kinney and Bowe streets, each 24x153 feet to an alley. Being in the growing West Lond, these lots should attract those who are seeking nice building sites.

7. A LOT OF GROUND on the east side of Sixth street between Leigh and Baker streets, fronting 120 feet and running back 124 feet to an alley. The most northern sixty-feet of this plat of ground is, for the most part, level and suitable to build on: the other one hundred and thirty feet is mostly guily-lot, and will be sold subject to the right of dower of the widow of the late Henry Watkins (colored).
